Description

I know there are options like publish to connect to a VH hub and publish e.g. skymaps.
I have tried to simply play around with it a bit but I didn't really know what I was doing. It might be very nice for a user if we could add a section in the user manual what a VO hub is, how to setup and use it, what benefits there are, and provide some examples what options what can be done. Of course linking to an external source of documentation might also be a good idea.
